DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Reba Bowser Farm is located several yards E of Pig's Ear Road, S of Strawn. The farm has not been worked, except for a vegetable garden, in some time. The farm consists of a house, barn, and several outbuildings.

The house is a two-story, gable-roofed, ell-plan dwelling with a three-bay, center-door facade. The facade points NW. A one-story, shed porch partially fills the ell on the SW and SE elevations, and a hipped-roofed porch stretches the length of the facade.

The house rests on a low-stone foundation and is covered with brown brick-patterned asphalt siding. The windows are one over one sash with simple cornices and symmetrically moulded surrounds. On the NE and SW gable ends, the attic windows are single-paned diamonds. All trim is painted red.

The roof is covered with corrugated metal. The house has two brick stove chimneys: an exterior chimney on the NE gable end of the main block, and an interior chimney NW of center in the ell.

The ell porch is partially enclosed and has entrances on both its SW and SE elevations. The roof of the facade porch is supported by four square posts.

The interior of the house contains an enclosed central staircase, with a single room on either side, on the ground floor. The kitchen occupies the ell. All door and window trim has a symmetrical astragal and ogee pattern with bullseye corner blocks.

Southeast of the house is a shed-roofed, board and batten privy. To the S of the house are a small gable-roofed outbuilding (#1) a gable-roofed springhouse, and the property's spring. The springhouse rests on a stone foundation and is covered with vertical boards. The entrance is on the SW gable end and the gable roof extends over the entrance, creating a covered porch. The porch is floored with boards and the covered spring is opposite the springhouse entrance. At the S corner of the porch is a small pipe, directing the spring water into a small pool. The water subsequently runs NE through the springhouse and through another pipe to a sunk bathtub and small pond E of the springhouse (see plan).

To the NW of the springhouse is a large vegetable garden. SW of the garden is a three-bay frame bank barn. The barn has a forebay on the NE elevation and a gable roof. The barn rests on a stone foundation and is covered with vertical boards. The roof is covered with corrugated metal.

To the S of the barn is a corn crib. To the N is a small shed (#2), covered with vertical boards.

Northeast of the house are an additional gable-roofed outbuilding (#3) and a large gable-roofed garage. Both are covered with vertical boards.
